Beneficial Blends Response to COVID-19 (Coronavirus)

Dear All,

At Beneficial Blends, our concern revolves around our customers, vendors, and most importantly, our employees' safety. As this crisis continues and the discussion escalates around quarantines, closed borders, and more, we wanted to share an update on the efforts Beneficial Blends is taking to continue business as usual, while working with an abundance of caution.

Since COVID-19 started impacting the United States, we have implemented a number of safety measures to keep our team and community safe, which include:

- Restricting all business-related air travel for employees
- Deploying technology and system access for employees to work remotely in order to continue to do their jobs effectively
- Instituting deep cleaning practices, piggybacking on our already robust sanitation and Food Defense protocols

As part of the nation's food supply chain, we plan on continuing operations of business unless the Federal government suggests otherwise.

To Our Customers: Recognizing our importance in the food supply chain, we are offering all retailers the option for early pick up or delivery of existing finished sales orders. If we identify any issues in our supply chains, we will be notifying you promptly with alternative plans and options to keep your store shelves stocked.

To Our Vendors: We are requesting written responses to the COVID-19 crisis and how this might impact current Beneficial Blend's purchase orders with your company and future projections. It is your responsibility to communicate early and often with our supply chain members to ensure success for all parties.

To Our Employees: Thank you for continuing to give your maximum effort during a difficult and unknown time. We are on this journey together and will come out stronger on the other side.

In good health and better spirits,

Erin Meagher
